Chor4Me

The smart online management tool for choirs and orchestras

Chor4Me is an innovative online tool designed for the efficient management of choirs, which can just as easily be adapted for orchestras. Developed from the daily practice of an internationally active ensemble, the platform combines organization, communication, and planning in one central place. Whether for professional choirs with employed singers or amateur ensembles – Chor4Me brings structure, saves time, and ensures smooth workflows in everyday musical life.

Quick Facts

- Solution area: Organisations, Processes, Technological innovation
- Administrative level: Municipality, District, State, Federation
- Solution process: Art and culture, Employment and education
- Technology: Information technology, Networks, Platform technology

How it works

Chor4Me provides a central, password-protected platform that gives singers, choir management, and administrative staff access to all relevant information at any time. After registering, members can view schedules, check rehearsal and performance locations (including direct links via Google Maps), and participate in projects.

Choir leaders can send rehearsal plans to selected participants, collect feedback, compile line-ups, and communicate individual information. Attendance is recorded directly within the application, providing an up-to-date overview of voice groups, assignments, and availability at all times.

Communication takes place directly through the platform: emails with attachments can be sent to freely defined recipient groups. The system also includes integrated sheet music loan management. With individually assignable permission levels, Chor4Me is fully GDPR-compliant—each user only sees the information relevant to their role.

The tool also greatly simplifies administrative tasks: project statements can be created directly in Chor4Me, and transfer data can be generated with just a few clicks. Synchronization with Outlook or Mac calendars keeps everyone up to date. Following a major redevelopment in 2022, Chor4Me is now fully responsive on mobile devices—ideal for ensembles on the move.

The Big Picture

Chor4Me is transforming the way choirs and orchestras organize their activities. Instead of relying on cumbersome Excel spreadsheets or paper lists, ensembles get a customized digital management system available 24/7.

The platform creates clear structures, streamlines internal communication, and significantly reduces administrative workloads. This allows more time for what truly matters: artistic work. Centralized data management and transparent scheduling strengthen collaboration within ensembles—whether at the municipal or national level, in amateur groups or professional choirs.

Chor4Me supports networks and cultural institutions in using their resources more efficiently and organizing musical projects professionally. For the Bachchor and Chorakademie Salzburg, the tool has been an indispensable part of daily work for more than 15 years—a best-practice example of digital innovation in the cultural sector.